Domestic GFI Letter

Dear Correspondent Banking Customer:

As you may know, First Union Corporation and Wachovia Corporation merged on September 1, 2001, and the merged company is named Wachovia Corporation. As of year-end 2001, Wachovia Corporation had assets of $330 billion with $28 billion in stockholders equity. Wachovia Corporation offers full service banking in 11 Eastern U.S. states, full service brokerage through offices in 49 states, and global services through 33 international representative offices and 5 overseas branches.

As we work towards the further integration of our businesses, it is expected that the two principal banking subsidiaries, First Union National Bank and Wachovia Bank, N.A. will merge on April 1, 2002 and the newly merged bank will be named Wachovia Bank, National Association.

During this transition, we want to make sure you are aware of important changes that may affect the processing of the business you currently conduct with our bank.

International

Trade Services: On April 1, 2002 our overseas branches in London, Hong Kong, Taipei, Tokyo and Seoul will begin to operate officially under the name of Wachovia Bank, National Association.

If you are currently using our Trade Agent services, where First Union acts as your advising and negotiating agent for import letters of credit in Asia, please make note of the following revised non-restrictive wording that must be used with the Telex or SWIFT letter of credit format, effective April 1, 2002.

Using Taipei as an example:

Field 41D: available with/by-name, address:
"Available with Wachovia Bank, N.A. Taipei Branch by Payment"

Field 78: instructions to pay/acc/neg bk:
"Wachovia Bank, N.A. Taipei Branch holds special instructions regarding document disposal and reimbursement of this letter of credit"

Field 57: Include the name of the "Advised Through Bank" for directed l/cs.

However, all other domestically processed international systems, SWIFT TIDS, Fedwire and CHIPS ABAs will not be fully integrated until June 3, 2002. If you are currently using any international payment systems for example, for the next several months, you will see a combination of both the First Union and Wachovia names on the website, certain documents, forms, confirmations and other material.

Standby Letters of Credit: All standby letters of credit will be processed in the name of Wachovia (or Wachovia Bank, National Association?), effective April 1, 2002. Effective June 17, 2002, if you are a current First Union customer, please note that our Standby Letter of Credit business will now be processed in Winston Salem, North Carolina. Please send all documentation and mail to the address listed below. If you currently process standby letters of credit with Wachovia, you will not experience any change.

Wachovia Bank, National Association
International Trade Operations- NC6034
401 Linden Street
Winston Salem, NC 27101
Fax 336-735-0950

Check Purchases/Check Collections : There will be no immediate change to the way in which we process these services. We will contact you in the future as any changes occur.

FX Cash Letter: This service will remain unchanged until further notice. You should continue to use the same forms you are currently using.

Credit Services: If you have any specific questions concerning credit lines that your bank extends to First Union and /or Wachovia Bank, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Domestic Cash Management Services: The conversion of domestically processed cash management services (cash letter, coin and currency, etc.) will be done in various phases in order to ensure a smooth transition. From now until 2003, you can expect to see a combination of First Union and Wachovia names on statements, marketing materials, websites, branch signage, etc.

Foreign Exchange: If you currently conduct foreign exchange transactions, please note that effective April 1, 2002 all trades done with us will reflect the Wachovia Bank, National Association name. All SWIFT confirmations will still use the Reuters Code PNBPUCHFX TID. Trades settling on and after the April 1 conversion should use the settlement instructions quoted on the SWIFT broadcast. These are First Union's old, standard settlement instructions.

Upon integration, you will see minimal change in the operations and systems that process your correspondent banking business with us. Our correspondent banking business remains stronger than ever, and the union with Wachovia will reinforce and grow the tradition of offering correspondent banking services to over 3000 banks around the globe. Our rankings, experienced professionals, technological expertise, as well as a growing array of Internet-ready solutions, position us to meet and anticipate all of your correspondent banking needs.
